New York State Law Enforcement and Community Council (NYSLECC)
Student Volunteer Hour Form

The New York State Law Enforcement and Community Council (NYSLECC) is a collaborative initiative dedicated to fostering positive relationships between law enforcement agencies and local communities. Through various programs, volunteer opportunities, and community outreach efforts, NYSLECC aims to build trust, promote public safety, and encourage civic engagement among residents. The organization works closely with schools, local governments, and community groups to implement initiatives that enhance mutual understanding and cooperation. NYSLECC provides opportunities for individuals, especially students, to engage in meaningful volunteer work, contributing to community development and public service.
